

Announcement of Modular Commune Festival, Beijing 2026

We are delighted to announce that Modular Commune Festival 2026 will be held on October 23-25 at Creative Square in 798 Art District, Beijing!

Moving to a new venue in 2026 will provide a larger, fully equipped venue, dedicated to the fusion of technology and art and one of the few distinguished art spaces in China that is entirely designed and built to match professional standards of art museums worldwide.

The Modular Commune Festival, staying true to its core concept, will have a fully packed lineup with hundreds of live modular performances over multiple stages, including techno, ambient, audio-visual, and Dolby Atmos environments. The festival will also include workshops, DIY workshops, afterparties, as well as master classes held by global industry leaders in instrument building, modular live techniques and more! So far, Master Class hosts include Eric Schlappi and An On Bast with more to be confirmed soon.

Going into our 11th year, we are more excited than ever to meeting you in Beijing to share new ideas, technologies and love for music.
